XPO Logistics CIO Mario Harik to Speak on Supply Chain Consumerization at Home Delivery World 2018

GREENWICH, Conn. - March 13, 2018 - XPO Logistics (NYSE: XPO), the largest provider of last mile logistics for heavy goods in North America, today announced that Mario Harik, chief information officer, will be a featured speaker at Home Delivery World 2018.

Harik will discuss the critical role of technology in enhancing the consumer experience in an on-demand economy, at 12:15 p.m., April 18, at the AmericasMart Center in Atlanta, Ga. The annual Home Delivery World conference attracts leaders from across the logistics industry, including retailers, fulfillment providers, subscription service companies and delivery specialists.

Troy Cooper, chief operating officer of XPO Logistics, said, "Technology and data are the foremost advantages in today's competitive e-commerce environment. An increasingly consumer-centric supply chain must provide clear visibility and accountability, from the moment a product is ordered through fulfillment and home delivery. Mario is a thought leader on supply chain consumerization and he's the driving force behind our own innovations in this area."

In September of last year, XPO announced a major expansion of its last mile capabilities in the U.S., with 85 last mile hubs expected to be positioned within approximately 90% of the population by the end of this year. Last month, XPO announced new last mile operations in five European countries.
