

XPO Logistics Announces Move to New Headquarters in Connecticut

May 15, 2012

GREENWICH, Conn.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May. 15, 2012-- XPO Logistics, Inc. (NYSE Amex: XPO), a leading third-party transportation logistics provider, today announced its move to a new corporate headquarters at Five Greenwich Office Park in Greenwich, Conn. The company was previously based in Michigan.

The move is part of the company's strategic expansion to support its growing network of freight brokerage, freight forwarding and expedited transportation locations nationwide. In March, the company announced the opening of a new operations center in Charlotte, N.C., to strengthen the infrastructure surrounding its customer and carrier relationships.
